

Biography for Mr. Lawrence T. Mirabal

Mr. Mirabal holds the position of Vice President of Operations at the Institute of American Indian Arts (IAIA) in Santa Fe, NM, with a tenure of 12 years at the college. Bringing over two decades of higher education leadership expertise, he served as the Controller at St. John's College for 12 years. In his current role, Mr. Mirabal oversees all fiscal operations of the college and manages critical areas such as Human Resources, Information Technology, Facilities, Security, Capital Projects, and all Auxiliary functions.

While dedicating his career to higher education, Mr. Mirabal has successfully blended his business acumen with the mission-driven environment of colleges. He focuses on innovative ways to streamline campus processes and elevate learning experiences. Given the often limited resources of educational institutions, Mr. Mirabal excels in identifying unique opportunities to leverage his skill set, enabling colleges to achieve more with fewer resources. Mr. Mirabal enjoys the perpetual challenge and profound sense of purpose that this work brings about.

Mr. Mirabal is a 1997 graduate of the University of New Mexico – Anderson School of Management, receiving a BA in Management. Mr. Mirabal currently resides in Santa Fe, NM, and enjoys spending time outdoors and volunteering as an alumni mentor at his alma mater.